Nareit Hawaii Donates $50,000 to the Hawaii Resilience Fund in Support of the Hawaii Homeless Healthcare Hui

HONOLULU – Mar. 30, 2020 – Nareit Hawaii has donated $50,000 to the Hawaii Resilience Fund in support of the Hawaii Homeless Healthcare Hui, a nonprofit that provides comprehensive medical services for Oahu’s chronically homeless population.

The grant from Nareit Hawaii is supporting a public-private partnership between the City and County of Honolulu, Hawaii Community Foundation, MacNaughton Foundation and other supporters to have the Hawaii Homeless Healthcare Hui establish and operate the COVID-19 Medical Triage and Quarantine Center at 524 Ka’aahi Street in Honolulu.

Gladys Quinto Marrone, executive director for Nareit Hawaii, commented, “We are honored to provide this grant in support of a wellness-inspired initiative that is bringing much-needed medical care to the homeless and keeping the coronavirus from spreading further within our community. Mahalo to the City and County of Honolulu, Hawaii Community Foundation, MacNaughton Foundation and the many volunteers for making the COVID-19 Medical Triage and Quarantine Center a reality.”

The COVID-19 Medical Triage and Quarantine Center will provide housing, food and hygiene facilities for up to 26 individuals at a time who are experiencing symptoms, awaiting results or who test positive for the disease. The facility will also provide urgent care services to individuals on a walk-in basis, regardless of their insurance status, with services available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Nareit Hawaii represents the interests of REITs in Hawaii and their participation in civic, community, and policy initiatives to benefit residents statewide, while also supporting community and charitable organizations that address social issues of importance.
